We're moving online ...

Join us!

Dear Print Subscriber,

At the start of the year, we discontinued print production of the Economic Policy Review and Current Issues in Economics and Finance to focus our efforts on enhanced electronic delivery of our publications. Because we value your interest in our publications, we'd like you to join us as we make the transition online.

It's easy to do: To receive notice when new articles in our research series are available online, sign up for our e-alert service at the Research Publications home page, www.newyorkfed.org/research/publication_annuals/index.html. The e-mails you'll receive provide links to the articles you want, allowing you to download them quickly and conveniently.

Electronic access brings additional benefits: From the Research Publications page, you can download earlier articles in our research series, search for articles on a particular topic, and learn what research is most in demand by our readers.

We also invite you to follow us on Twitter—@NYFedResearch—to learn of new postings in our research series and our Liberty Street Economics blog.

Hoping you'll join us online,
The New York Fed Research Publications Staff
